Imported Citrus Varieties Available at Bee Sweet Citrus

FOWLER, Calif., - Bee Sweet's import season is in full swing, and its sales team is reporting ample supply of several different citrus varieties.

"With several weeks still left in our import program, we are seeing great demand for all varieties," said Bee Sweet Citrus Sales Representative Jason Sadoian. "This includes Navel oranges, Murcott mandarins, lemons and our Chilean Cara Cara navels that just arrived."

A grower, packer and shipper of citrus, Bee Sweet Citrus is the largest importer of citrus on the West Coast. Focused on citrus year-round, Bee Sweet can regrade and repack all imported product to ensure that consumers receive premium fruit, regardless of the season.

An excellent source of vitamin C and fiber, Chilean navels and Murcott mandarins are an ideal snack for work and the classroom. Its versatility, nutritional components and taste make them suitable for both elegant dishes and simple snacks, while its exterior make them perfect for the road. Other varieties, like Chilean lemons, are an excellent addition to beverages and make a great substitute for heavy salad dressings.

"The eating quality of our imported product has been great, and we're excited to head down the final stretch of another successful season," continued Sadoian. "Our Chilean partners have been incredibly helpful in providing the quality and volume we need to support our programs, and we're grateful for their partnership."
